

Freedom of Information Request Reference N°: FOI 001538-18

I write in connection with your request for information received by Suffolk Constabulary on the 30 April 2018 in which you sought access to the following information:

"I'd like to request data on hate crimes in your county, specifically religious or racial hate crimes (we are interested in anti-Muslim incidents). I would like to know crime type, outcome, date, district, and the victim identity (race, gender, age if possible) from January 2015 until the most recent data available. Sending the data by email works well."

Response to your Request

The response provided below is correct as of 8 May 2018

Suffolk Constabulary has considered your request for information and the response is below.

In relation to your request for information and in accordance with Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), this response serves as a formal notification of refusal for your request. Suffolk Constabulary does not hold, for the purposes of FOIA, the information you require in a retrievable format.

It is estimated that to attempt to retrieve all of the information you require would take a considerable amount of retrieval time, which would exceed 18 hours. This would exceed the appropriate limit for dealing with Freedom of Information requests, in terms of costs and therefore Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 applies.

Suffolk Constabulary is unable to identify hate crimes that are specifically targeted at Muslims as the information is not recorded in this way. We can provide victims' nationality in some cases, although this is not a mandatory field and is not always completed.

There have been a total of 1,863 religious hate crimes for the time frame requested and we anticipate it would take approximately 4 minutes per crime to extract the religion of the victim. Therefore we consider it would take approximately 124 hours to extract the data requested.

Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 states that a Public Authority is not obliged to: "...comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit." The Freedom of Information (Appropriate Limit and Fees) Regulations, defines the 'appropriate limit' for the Suffolk Constabulary as £450 and specifies that this sum equates to 18 hours work at a standard rate of £25 per hour.

In accordance with Section 17(5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter serves as a refusal notice for this part of your request.

By requesting all information your request is too broad to be complied with within the £450 limit imposed on Freedom of Information requests.

Although excess cost removes the Force's obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill, I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved or available before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this is helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request.

A search has been completed of the Constabulary's crime system for all hate crime recorded from 1 January 2015 – 7 May 2018.

The information provided on the attached spreadsheet confirms the total number of hate crimes recorded by hate type, year committed, crime type, outcome, district and victim nationality, where present.

Please note that due to a change in crime recording system on 19 October 2015, the information has been presented in two tabs as a result of a change in the way information is recorded.

Police forces in the United Kingdom are routinely required to provide crime statistics to government bodies and the recording criteria is set nationally. However, the systems used for recording these figures are not generic, nor are the procedures used locally in capturing the crime data. It should be noted that for these reasons this force's response to your questions should not be used for comparison purposes with any other response you may receive.
