

Freedom of Information Request Reference N°: FOI 001681-18

I write in connection with your request for information received by Suffolk Constabulary on the 9 May 2018 in which you sought access to the following information:

“Please provide the following for the last 5 financial years - with a year by year breakdown e.g. 2013/14, 2014/15, 2015/16, 2016/17, 2017/18

- The total number of offences where a motor vehicle was stolen as a result of a burglary
- The total number of offences where a motor vehicle was stolen as a result of fraud
- The total number of offences where a motor vehicle was stolen by any other means (e.g. NOT burglary or fraud). This would include ‘theft or unauthorised taking of a motor vehicle’ and vehicles taken in a robbery or other crimes.
- The total number of stolen motor vehicles that were returned to the owner”

Response to your Request

The response provided below is correct as of 21 May 2018

Suffolk Constabulary has considered your request for information and the response is below.

In relation to your request for information and in accordance with Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), this response serves as a formal notification of refusal for your request. Suffolk Constabulary does not hold, for the purposes of FOIA, the information you require in a retrievable format.

It is estimated that to attempt to retrieve all of the information you require would take a considerable amount of retrieval time, which would exceed 18 hours. This would exceed the appropriate limit for dealing with Freedom of Information requests, in terms of costs and therefore Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 applies.

The Constabulary's crime system can record items as 'Stolen' or 'Recovered'. The data that falls within the category of 'recovered' does not differentiate between those that were recovered as a result of a theft or those that were recovered after a road traffic offence, for example having no insurance etc. There are 600 offences where the vehicle has a status of recovered and each will need to be reviewed to establish whether this was as a result of a theft or burglary.

Considering a search of 4 minutes per offence, it would take in excess of 40 hours.

Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 states that a Public Authority is not obliged to: "...comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit." The Freedom of Information (Appropriate Limit and Fees) Regulations, defines the 'appropriate limit' for the Suffolk Constabulary as £450 and specifies that this sum equates to 18 hours work at a standard rate of £25 per hour.

In accordance with Section 17(5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter serves as a refusal notice for this part of your request.

By requesting all information your request is too broad to be complied with within the £450 limit imposed on Freedom of Information requests.

Although excess cost removes the Force's obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill, I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved or available before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this is helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request.

The table provided below confirms the total number of vehicles that are recorded as stolen for the respective years, including the offence description.

Police forces in the United Kingdom are routinely required to provide crime statistics to government bodies and the recording criteria is set nationally. However, the systems used for recording these figures are not generic, nor are the procedures used locally in capturing the crime data. It should be noted that for these reasons this force's response to your questions should not be used for comparison purposes with any other response you may receive.
