FURTHER INFORMATION

Across the whole of Suffolk there has been an increase in Domestic Burglaries and as we've mentioned before conditions for this specific crime are better suited to the winter months, with short days and longer nights, it is easy to identify premises that may be vacant due to occupants being at work. It is fair to say that our criminal fraternity are prepared to travel in order to commit their crimes and in many cases this has proven to be the case.

Every year the New Year arrives brimming with possibilities and Suffolk Police are reminding people to include security resolutions as part of their 2017 goals.

The New Year encourages many of us to vow to quit our vices, eat better and improve finances but what about your home? As the saying goes, home is where your heart is and officers are urging the public to put more efforts into making it safe and secure.

Most burglaries are committed by opportunistic criminals who happen to see insecure premises where they can help themselves. Intruders will look for the best opportunity to break into a property, some will scope out an address first, so officers are urging residents to ensure their home looks occupied, that hedges which might conceal a thief are kept trimmed and that there are no tools accessible that might aid an intruder to gain access.

Remember to safeguard your keys as part of your home security measures. Every year police are handed thousands of lost keys, which cannot be returned to their rightful owner as there's no way to identify them. Suffolk Constabulary's SAFEKey initiative works to remedy this and, operating across the UK and the EU, provides members with a branded key fob inscribed with a unique reference number to identify them as the key holder at a small cost of just £1 per month. The money generated is driven back into the community to support projects and schemes, as per the Police and Crime Commissioner's objectives.
