

Freedom of Information Request Reference N°: FOI 000435-20

I write in connection with your request for information received by Suffolk and Norfolk Constabularies on 28 January 2020 which you sought access to the following information:

1. “Number and proportion of requests for pre-charge detention in police custody that were refused
2. Total number of adults held in detention
3. Average length of detention
4. Number of adults detained in police custody on court warrant
5. Number and proportion of people detained in police custody under PACE that had a legal advisor present during interview and/or rights
6. For those who were charged and had a legal advisor present, how many were bailed? How many were remanded to court?
7. For those who were charged and did not have a legal advisor present, how many were bailed? How many were remanded to court?”

Response to your Request

The response provided below is correct as of 12 February 2020

Suffolk and Norfolk Constabularies have considered your request for information and the response is below.

The Constabularies crime and custody system does not identify in a searchable field when a solicitor or legal advisor was present, we would be required to review thousands of custody records to establish whether a legal advisor was required / present.

This would take an excessive amount of retrieval time way in excess of the 18 hours permitted for each Constabulary.

In relation to your request for information and in accordance with Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), this response serves as a formal notification of refusal for your request. The Constabularies do not hold, for the purposes of FOIA, all of the information you require in a retrievable format.

It is estimated that to attempt to retrieve all of the information you require would take a considerable amount of retrieval time, exceeding the appropriate limit for dealing with Freedom of Information requests in terms of costs and therefore, Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 applies.

Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 states that a Public Authority is not obliged to: "...comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit." The Freedom of Information (Appropriate Limit and Fees) Regulations, defines the 'appropriate limit' for the Constabularies as £450 and specifies that this sum equates to 18 hours work per force at a standard rate of £25 per hour. This equates to 36 hours of work, or £900, for joint responses.

In accordance with Section 17(5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter serves as a refusal notice for this part of your request.

By requesting all information your request is too broad to be complied with within the limit imposed on Freedom of Information requests.

Although excess cost removes the Force's obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill, I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved or available before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this is helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request.

The information provided below relates to the time frame September 2018 to August 2019.

For both Norfolk and Suffolk Constabularies, 86 requests for pre-charge detention in police custody were refused.

The total number of adults detained by the Constabularies was 24,799.

Should you have any further queries concerning this request, please contact Clair Pack, FOI Decision Maker, quoting the reference number shown above.
