

Freedom of Information Request Reference N°: FOI 004038-18

I write in connection with your request for information received by Suffolk Constabulary on the 31 October 2018 in which you sought access to the following information:

“Please could you provide me with the following information regarding drug seizures from schools in the Suffolk area from January 2015 to October 2018:

- How many times drugs have been seized from school premises during the above period
- Details of each seizure including, but not limited to:
 - o The date
 - o Type, amount and value of the drugs involved
 - o The type of school (secondary or primary)
 - o Who the drug was seized or confiscated from, including but not limited to age and gender”

Response to your Request

The response provided below is correct as of 13 November 2018

Suffolk Constabulary has considered your request for information and the response is below.

Information concerning drug seizures is predominantly not recorded within the Constabulary’s crime system, rather within the property database. This property database does not detail the number of occasions a drug has been seized from a school specifically and there is no means to cross reference the data with the crime data to extract only those relevant entries. We would have to review all drug seizure records within the property system in order to match them up with the associated crime. Unfortunately property data entries do not include crime reference numbers, which is why this search is an immeasurable task.

In relation to your request for information and in accordance with Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), this response serves as a formal notification of refusal for your request. Suffolk Constabulary does not hold, for the purposes of FOIA, the information you require in a retrievable format.

It is estimated that to attempt to retrieve all of the information you require would take a considerable amount of retrieval time, which would exceed 18 hours. This would exceed the appropriate limit for dealing with Freedom of Information requests, in terms of costs and therefore Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 applies.

Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 states that a Public Authority is not obliged to: "...comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit." The Freedom of Information (Appropriate Limit and Fees) Regulations, defines the 'appropriate limit' for the Suffolk Constabulary as £450 and specifies that this sum equates to 18 hours work at a standard rate of £25 per hour.

In accordance with Section 17(5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter serves as a refusal notice for this part of your request.

By requesting all information your request is too broad to be complied with within the £450 limit imposed on Freedom of Information requests.

Although excess cost removes the Force's obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill, I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved or available before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this is helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request.

A search has been completed of the Constabulary's crime system for all drug related offences recorded where the location is either a primary or secondary school.

The information provided on the attached spreadsheet confirms the total number of drug offences recorded by offence type, age and gender of suspect, month and year.

Police forces in the United Kingdom are routinely required to provide crime statistics to government bodies and the recording criteria is set nationally. However, the systems used for recording these figures are not generic, nor are the procedures used locally in capturing the crime data. It should be noted that for these reasons this force's response to your questions should not be used for comparison purposes with any other response you may receive.

Should you have any further queries concerning this request, please contact Clair Pack, FOI Decision Maker, quoting the reference number shown above.
