

Freedom of Information Request Reference N^o: FOI 004245-18

I write in connection with your request for information received by Suffolk and Norfolk Constabularies on 16 November 2018 which you sought access to the following information:

“Please could you provide me with the details of all persons charged with a drugs-related offence by Suffolk Constabulary since January 2016.

In each case, I would like to know:

- a) The full name of the charged individual*
- b) Their age*
- c) Their street address or postcode*
- d) The offence they were charged with*
- e) When they were charged”*

Response to your Request

The response provided below is correct as of 26 November 2018

Suffolk and Norfolk Constabularies have considered your request for information and the response is below.

The Constabularies are unable to confirm the street address or postcode for all suspects as a review of the information has identified that the majority of street names or postcodes have not be extracted using the search criteria available. This could be as a result of an address not being recorded, or because the address has been completed within the wrong field.

In order to extract the entire dataset to allow a decision to be made concerning the harm in the disclosure of this information, would require the Constabularies to review 2,150 Norfolk records and 516 Suffolk records where a person has been charged with an offence but no suspect address is present in the data return.

Considering we would be required to review each crime and potentially cross reference with other information, we anticipate it would take in excess of 140 hours (Norfolk) and 34 hours (Suffolk) to extract the data requested.

In relation to your request for information and in accordance with Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), this response serves as a formal notification of refusal for your request. The Constabularies do not hold, for the purposes of FOIA, all of the information you require in a retrievable format.

It is estimated that to attempt to retrieve all of the information you require would take a considerable amount of retrieval time, exceeding the appropriate limit for dealing with Freedom of Information requests in terms of costs and therefore, Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 applies.

Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 states that a Public Authority is not obliged to: "...comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit." The Freedom of Information (Appropriate Limit and Fees) Regulations, defines the 'appropriate limit' for the Constabularies as £450 and specifies that this sum equates to 18 hours work per force at a standard rate of £25 per hour. This equates to 36 hours of work, or £900, for joint responses.

In accordance with Section 17(5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter serves as a refusal notice for this part of your request.

By requesting all information your request is too broad to be complied with within the limit imposed on Freedom of Information requests.

Although excess cost removes the Force's obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill, I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved or available before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this is helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request.

The table provided on the attached spreadsheet confirms the Year and age of the person charged with a drug related for the 2016 – 2018 calendar years. 2018 data correct as of 31 October.

Police forces in the United Kingdom are routinely required to provide crime statistics to government bodies and the recording criteria is set nationally. However, the systems used for recording these figures are not generic, nor are the procedures used locally in capturing the crime data. It should be noted that for these reasons this force's response to your questions should not be used for comparison purposes with any other response you may receive.

Should you have any further queries concerning this request, please contact Clair Pack, FOI Decision Maker, quoting the reference number shown above.
