- 3. In the event that you rely upon any exemptions in relation to (a) or (b) state whether such documentation exists.*

Response to your Request

The response provided below is correct as of 22 January 2019

Suffolk and Norfolk Constabularies have considered your request for information and the response is below.

In relation to your request for information and in accordance with Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), this response serves as a formal notification of refusal for your request. The Constabularies do not hold, for the purposes of FOIA, all of the information you require in a retrievable format.

It is estimated that to attempt to retrieve all of the information you require would take a considerable amount of retrieval time, exceeding the appropriate limit for dealing with Freedom of Information requests in terms of costs and therefore, Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 applies. It is considered that to provide an answer to your request will take in excess of 36 hours to provide the information.

Information passed to the Department for Work and Pensions concerning benefit fraud, in particular disabled people taking part in protests, is not centrally recorded and therefore not easily retrievable. In order for us to establish whether any information is held, would require a manual review of all intelligence reports to look at the dissemination history from which the information was sent. The intelligence department receive approximately 40,000 intelligence reports each year and with an estimated 3 minutes per search, this would take an enormous amount of time to research and retrieve and would way exceed statutory time restraints.

It is difficult to establish a manner in which the request can be refined, as even reducing the scope of the request from a time perspective, would still require a manual review of hundreds of intelligence records. We receive over 100 per day across the two forces, but it is recognised also that to narrow the time frame so significantly will render the data irrelevant.

Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 states that a Public Authority is not obliged to: "...comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit." The Freedom of Information (Appropriate Limit and Fees) Regulations, defines the 'appropriate limit' for the Constabularies as £450 and specifies that this sum equates to 18 hours work per force at a standard rate of £25 per hour. This equates to 36 hours of work, or £900, for joint responses.

In accordance with Section 17(5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter serves as a refusal notice for this part of your request.

By requesting all information your request is too broad to be complied with within the limit imposed on Freedom of Information requests.

Although excess cost removes the Force's obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill, I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved or available before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this is helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request.

Suffolk and Norfolk Constabularies do not hold any policy documents or advice on the supply of information to the Department of Work and Pensions relating to disabled people taking part in protests.

Should you have any further queries concerning this request, please contact Clair Pack, FOI Decision Maker, quoting the reference number shown above.
