

Freedom of Information Request Reference N°: FOI 001989-19

I write in connection with your request for information received by Suffolk and Norfolk Constabularies on 29 May 2019 which you sought access to the following information:

“Could you please tell me how many noise complaints you have dealt with each November since 2015 with regards to fireworks or bonfire night celebrations?”

Could you furthermore tell me how many injuries or incidents you have recorded with regards to fireworks or bonfire night each November since 2015?”

Response to your Request

The response provided below is correct as of 14 June 2019

Suffolk and Norfolk Constabularies have considered your request for information and the response is below.

The Constabularies are unable to confirm the number of incidents or offences, which involved a firework and subsequently resulted in an injury. The Constabulary does not have any specific key word in order to easily research such information. Rather, we would be required to manually review all offences that contain reference to a firework to establish whether any injuries were sustained. There is also no guarantee the information will always be recorded within our records.

Considering the many hundreds of calls and crimes we would be required to review; a search would take well in excess of 36 hours.

In relation to your request for information and in accordance with Section 17 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), this response serves as a formal notification of refusal for your request. The Constabularies do not hold, for the purposes of FOIA, all of the information you require in a retrievable format.

It is estimated that to attempt to retrieve all of the information you require would take a considerable amount of retrieval time, exceeding the appropriate limit for dealing with Freedom of Information requests in terms of costs and therefore, Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 applies.

Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 states that a Public Authority is not obliged to: "...comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit." The Freedom of Information (Appropriate Limit and Fees) Regulations, defines the 'appropriate limit' for the Constabularies as £450 and specifies that this sum equates to 18 hours work per force at a standard rate of £25 per hour. This equates to 36 hours of work, or £900, for joint responses.

In accordance with Section 17(5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, this letter serves as a refusal notice for this part of your request.

By requesting all information your request is too broad to be complied with within the limit imposed on Freedom of Information requests.

Although excess cost removes the Force's obligations under the Freedom of Information Act, as a gesture of goodwill, I have supplied information, relative to your request, retrieved or available before it was realised that the fees limit would be exceeded. I trust this is helpful, but it does not affect our legal right to rely on the fees regulations for the remainder of your request.

A search has been completed of the Constabularies call data for all incidents recorded that contain the word 'firework' within the freetext of the call and the disposal code was recorded as 'Public Safety -

Force	2015	2016	2017	2018
Norfolk	78	73	55	44
Suffolk	48	47	35	44
Grand Total	126	120	90	88
